I Oppose James Moore's Release on Parole

This coming April, James Moore is scheduled to be interviewed by the Parole Board for possible release consideration. James Moore admitted to these heinous crimes when he pled guilty to the murder and rape of 14-year-old Pamela Moss in 1962.

This community has tragically witnessed unspeakable homicides through the years. Many of us will never forget Pamela Moss and the horrific actions committed by James Moore.

James Moore confessed to the murder and rape of young Pamela. Prior to sentencing, Moore agreed to spend the rest of his life in prison to avoid the death penalty — an arrangement authorized by the victim's grieving family so they would be assured that Moore would never again live life outside the Department of Corrections.

Changes in New York State law, however, have unjustifiably allowed Mr. Moore the opportunity to annul this sentence agreement and seek his freedom. He has served 58 years of his life sentence, not nearly enough time for the pain and torment he inflicted on young Pamela and her family.

This is why my District Attorney predecessors and I continue to advocate for Pamela and her family. As a prosecutor, I call for truth in sentencing. For the victims, for the families, for justice. If a defendant, especially one who committed brutal and vicious acts like James Moore, agrees to life in the Department of Corrections without parole, he should serve life without parole.

I implore every member of the community, friends and family of Pamela, to join me in signing the petition below. Our strong opposition will show the Parole Board that James Moore should not be entitled to life outside the Department of Corrections.
